SYNOPSIS

Soo-hyeong, who visits a shrine in search of his missing mother, meets a shaman there. She tells him he is possessed by an evil spirit and needs a salpuri, an exorcism. But the salpuri is an organ extraction surgery, and he struggles to get out alive.

"A high-school student's bizarre adventure takes him to a shrine to find his missing mother. A dubious shamanistic ritual in a strange place morphs into a frightening tale of organ trading. Ruthless storytelling and quality production offer unique suspense at the crossroads of two realms of fear, in body and soul."
